“ I cannot believe that this is the sum total of the obituary for Alex. This does not even remotely begin to describe the incredible human being he was. Tragic on so many levels.

“ I just heard the news today. I'm completely stunned. I so enjoyed our time together. I especially, loved Torah studies with your whole family. Alex always brought a great perspective and fun to it. My heart breaks for you all and my prayers are with you.

“ Even though we only meet once, it was easy to see he was a kind man. We're praying for peace and healing for Danyella and their children.

“ Condolences to Alex's family and friends. When I lived in Connecticut I had the privilege of going to the same church. Alex served in our youth ministry and I remember lots of beautifully conversations around faith, singing together, he even let me drive his motorcycle once, and crazy road trips. He had an incredible way of seeing people, the world, and did so with such kindness and compassion. I moved to the west coast and had talked about reconnecting but it never happened. Sad for this incredible loss and grateful for these precious memories. He will be missed! - Ruby Varghese (seattle, wa)

“ I am so sincerely sorry for the loss of Alex, and wish to express my condolence to his beautiful family. I only had the opportunity to work with him for a short time, but the impact he had in our school was big! He is missed already.
Rest in peace Mr. Mc Alister.
