“ I listened to a lark today and soon realized that its song was changing to the sounds of a Studebaker Lark. As I watched the Studebaker shine in the clouds, it turned into a Golden Eagle. God has given Danny his dream car and he will spend many happy hours tooling around the Heavens. If you hear a honk and can't figure out where it came from, it's Danny saying hi. As our good friend Mr. Spock would say, live long and prosper especially in the eyes of God. I love and miss you brother. Lilly Laignel

“ Uncle Danny you opened your home to me when I needed a place to stay in my worst of times, you shared your home with me and for that I am eternally grateful. We shared fun times going down to the dock salmon fishing. May you rest in peace.

“ Uncle Danny will always have a special place in my heart. He was so kind and gentle. Although I do not sleep well, thinking of the fact that the wolfman truly exist. I know if I ran into him, it would be sweet Uncle Danny. My heart aches, but I know he is without pain now. Love to all the family.

“ Danny was soft spoken and a true gentleman. He was kind, respectful, and easy going. It took a lot to upset him. He was a marvelous mechanic from what I hear and if you needed help he was right there. I remember his quiet sense of humor and he had a wonderful laugh. He collected a great many kinds of treasures as his interests were far reaching. I didn't know until recently that he was an Agatha Christie fan. We could have critiqued her work together had I known. It is an opportunity that I have sadly missed in his passing. Danny will be missed by us all as he brought something unique to each of us in turn. Danny had many passions but I believe his family meant the world to him.

“ I love and miss you so much Danny. You were always the brother with the great grin and generous heart. I must say though you were the scariest werewolf I have ever known. Even as an adult your howl could send chills up my body and having me looking over my shoulder each and every time. If God would create more men like you the world would be a much better place. Love always Carol

“ I love you Danny and will miss you greatly. I remember how close we were before you went into the Navy. You were my idol and always supplied me with naval oranges and gave your whole family gifts when you were in Spain. It is true you opened your home to everyone including me. You also let me keep a horse in the back yard. I especially looked forward to your birthday cards (I will very much this month) and Christmas cards. You will always be a special brother to me. I pray you are in Heaven and living it up and I look forward to seeing you again one day. Love you and miss you.

That is sad. I feel so bad for my sister Jeannie. I pray she will forgive this situation. Secrets are not good. God loves everyone and forgives everyone. The important thing is our brother Danny is at peace and this should be our focus. - her sister Mary.
