“ Barb was such an example to me. Not many are as lucky as I was to have a MIL that they love & want to be around. She was kind, understanding, patient, non-judgmental & helpful. I could only hope to embody all her good traits. I loved our long talks. She always welcomed my visits. Not one time was she too tired to see me. Every time I saw her she gave me some sort of compliment. Barb was an extremely strong woman, she held her own in all situations. I admire her. Very much. I didn't know her nearly as long or as well as I'd like. We ran out of time. I'll cherish my time w/ her. I wish I'd call her mom to her face. She was just that to me. She treated me & Paul w/ kindness & love. Barb will forever be in my heart & my thoughts. To me, she was a good Christian, loving & non-judgmental! We could all be so blessed to have some like her in our lives. I'll miss her!

“ What I'll miss most about in our relationship Barb is the way you had to understand my dispositions but also had way to tell me how things really are rather than sugar coat ideals that I really didn't want to hear at the time. I appreciated your input and honesty to help find my inward conviction of myself that in turn made want to become a better all around human being. Thank you and I love you until we all meet up together again in the new Kingdom of Heaven so, may the Perpetual True Light shine upon your face so that peace and holiness will follow you upon the eternal life that our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ had prepared and promised for you. Amen!
