“ 4 years later and not a day goes by that I don't think about you and either smile, laugh or cry. Sometimes all 3. I know you wouldn't like the crying part, but I also know you would understand. I often try to look at things and experience them like I know you would and I smile. I have so many awesome memories of you and the amazing times we shared. Part of me died when you did but although you weren't a religious person, I know we will meet again some day. Until then, I carry you in my heart. Always

“ My first memory of you is when I was 10 and you taught me how to play the spoons. I drove everyone around me nuts for years practicing that. You had such a big heart you wore on your sleeve and will be forever missed. God bless your family.

“ Where to start... I love you uncle Mike, always have, always will. You taught me how to play Black jack, at like what 9 years old? Every kid needs to know when to stay and when to "HIT ME!" :-) never know when that stuff will come in handy!! Haha some of my finest memories! Not to mention the learning to throw uncle bill's socks at the brick wall near the fireplace, to see who's would stick the highest up on the wall! I still smile when i think of those days. So many great memories shared with you. I miss you so much already! Know that even though I didn't see you much, I did miss you, did love you and often thought of you! Rest in peace and may you be with Uncle Bill, Aunt Sue and little Jason, smiling down from above and watching over us!!! Love you “ Mike was one of the most amazing people I have ever met and his life made one of the biggest impacts in my life. He helped to raise me when my biological father couldn't be there and I genuinely couldn't have asked for a more amazing father figure. His passing was unexpected and devastating to me and, as I can imagine to other family members that were affected. His heart and humor will forever be with me and I'm glad to say that I smile thinking of the wonderful person he was. And to all others affected, please know that you are in my thoughts and prayers during this difficult time.

Shaye, you had such a special place in his heart and I do believe you had just as big of an impact on his life as he had on yours. He loved you dearly.

Shaye, I was thinking of you and your brother today. I am saying prayers for you both as well. Not sure if you remember me and my last name has since changed, but I still remember you and your brother!! I still have a hard time believing its true and honestly wish it wasn't. He was an amazing man and will be forever missed.

“ As a friend and co-worker of Mike's for many years at UCS we were all deeply saddened to hear of Mike's passing. We shall miss our day to day interactions with all of the guys in the shop, and we will miss his helpful ways, his funny wit, and the laughs we shared. As a friend I truly will miss his presence on a daily basis. I will also miss his "Have a nice weekend" on Friday afternoons before we left for the weekend. Sending our deepest sympathy to Mike's family. He will truly be missed.

Sandy Bono Crisman - September 10, 2013 at 02:53 PM

I can hardly believe Mike is gone. We have shared some great years and memories together that I will treasure always. He was a wonderful step-father to my kids and has given and shared so much of himself with them and me. Although we are technically divorced, he has come back into my (and my children's) lives over the past few years and we have become very good friends. I have treasured our friendship and our time together immensely and I'm so happy to have spent some quality time with him. He was a pillar of strength and a generous soul to everyone who knew him. His gentle, kind and extremely humorous nature are character traits that I have always loved about him. He will be in my heart ALWAYS. I will miss him so very deeply. Love, Sandy (Crisman)

Sandy Bono Crisman - September 10, 2013 at 10:56 PM
